MISSIONARIES TO THE DOMINICAN REPUBLIC

Winter Memories

This winter season we were greatly blessed to visit the US for both Thanksgiving and Christmas! We thoroughly enjoyed reconnecting with faithful supporting churches, friends, and of course family. This time was truly a time of refreshment and recharging for us as we reflected on God's goodness to our ministry over the last decade. As a family we were able to even do some special activities and visit some exciting places that we've always wanted to visit. We are so thankful to all who made those special days possible. In early January we headed back to the field with a new fervor and vigor to serve, not only the Dominican people, but also our Savior.

Maturing in Macoris

Throughout our almost 10 years here in the Dominican, we have seen steady spiritual growth in the lives of the believers. As we approached our short furlough this winter season, we were confident that the church leaders were spiritually mature enough to take the reins of the church in all areas of teaching, preaching, outreach, follow up, and even the often daunting, Christmas event planning! As we expected, they did an amazing job in our absence. We were thrilled to receive each account of new people visiting the church, follow up, and the meticulous planning of different church activities. Much like proud parents who admire their children from afar as they mature, we reveled in how much the Lord had equipped them to serve the church in our absence. It was joyous to come back in early January to hear the encouraging reports from each member who had a part in seeing the church not only maintain its love for the Lord, but even grow in our absence!
